

Psalm 103:8

The Lord is compassionate and gracious, slow to anger, abounding in love, He will not always accuse, nor will He harbor his anger forever.

Father God, were it not for your gracious compassion, I would not know you today. Your compassion is unequalled by that of all others. Thank you for your compassion, for loving me, for not accusing me even though my list of failures is long, and my weaknesses are many. Forgive me for doing those things that displease you, that gave you reason to be angry. Thank you that you abound in love. Thanks for your mercy and compassion and faithfulness to me. Amen
